The Editors of "Acta Poloniae Historica"

The Państwowe Wydawnictwo Naukowe regretfully informs that on the map of Poland from the time of partitions (The Polish Commonwealth during the partitions, 1772 - 1795, att. to p. 320) in the book "History of Poland", Gdańsk has been shown as if it had been lost by Poland already in the first partition (1772), whereas in reality it was taken by Prussia in the second partition (1793).

While apologizing for this incorrect information we believe that mindful of our other publications our Readers will forgive us this error, which will certainly be corrected in the nearest edition of the book.
