

THE POLISH FLORA — VASCULAR PLANTS

by

Adam JASIEWICZ

The new edition of Polish flora is now being prepared. The published set contained volumes worked out before World War II which were rather old and comprised the out-dated data. In the new edition the flora is treated within the new political limits, it is based on the new taxonomic conception and currently used nomenclature. The work is done by the botanists of the W. Szafer Institute of Botany of the Polish Academy of Sciences, and of the Botanical Institute of the Jagiellonian University in Cracow.

The two volumes being now in preparation will include the families of Monocotyledones.
